"the beautiful" (kallos). A new visual vocabulary developed during this period – one that stressed clarity, balance and symmetry. These design principles may appear contemporary, yet they provided the foundation for all subsequent Greek art. The collection presents new evidence that re-examines the contributions and innovations of Geometric art and its enduring legacy throughout classical antiquity. The show features 57 objects drawn from The Sol Rabin Collection, considered the most important Geometric Greek collection in private hands. This exhibition is organized by the Museum of Fine Arts, St. Petersburg. Galleries 1, 4, and 5, Permanent Exhibition - "18th and 19th Century American Paintings and Sculpture". American paintings, from colonial portraits to Civil War-era landscapes, occupy the Gibbes Main Gallery. Portraits of leading political, social, and military figures include works by Jeremiah Theus, Henry Benbridge, Benjamin West, Gilbert Stuart, Thomas Sully and Samuel F.B. Morse. The gallery also features landscape and genre scenes by Angelica Kaufmann, Louis Mignot, Eastman Johnson, Conrad Wise Chapman, and William Aiken Walker. The paintings collection is complemented by examples of neoclassical sculpture on view in the Campbell Rotunda, and decorative art objects on loan from the Rivers Collection. Gallery 5, Permanent Exhibition - "Miniature Portraits". The first American miniature portraits were painted in Charleston, and today the Gibbes is home to one of the most prestigious portrait miniature collections in the United States. Containing more than six hundred objects, the collection spans nearly two hundred years and represents the work of over a hundred artists. Small enough to fit in the palm of the hand, these tiny portraits were treasured remembrances of loved ones in the age before photography. Presented in state-of-the-art display cases, and in viewable storage drawers featured miniatures include works by Mary Roberts, Jeremiah Theus, Henry Benbridge, Charles Wilson Peale, Pierre Henri, Edward Greene Malbone, George Engleheart, and Charles Fraser. Gallery 6, Permanent Exhibition - "20th Century American Regionalism and the Charleston Renaissance". At the turn of the twentieth century, American artists looked to their European counterparts and beyond as they developed identifiably American artistic movements. Two particularly strong influences during this time period were French Impressionism and Japanese woodblock prints. Another prevailing theme during this period was the growing interest in American subject matter. American regionalism and social realism played important roles in the development of art in Charleston, which flourished as a destination for artists, particularly during the years of 1915 to 1945 a period now known as the Charleston Renaissance. Gallery 7, Permanent Exhibition - "Modern and Contemporary". Modern and contemporary art in America encompasses a wide range of styles, subject matter, and media. As a whole, the diversity of modern and contemporary art reflects the rich and varied heritage of our nation and the lowcountry region. Works in this gallery were created over the past forty years by artists who are native to the area, who have worked here, or who have created objects that reflect the complex story of the region. The works are grouped to reflect several themes including the southern landscape, the human figure, abstraction, and the legacy of slavery in America. Visiting Artist Series, Clare Hu, Session IV: Through Dec. 4 - Amiri Geuka Farris is a contemporary, multidisciplinary artist whose wide range of work encompasses painting, drawing, video, performance and installation. Farris received his MFA in painting, with his BFA in illustration and graphic design, from the Savannah College of Art and Design. Farris' academic appointments include Professor of Fine Arts Foundations and Graphic Design at Georgia Southern University, at the Betty Foy Sanders Department of Art and Professor of Fine Arts, at the University of South Carolina-Beaufort. Farris' work has been featured in more than 50 solo exhibitions and juried museum exhibitions across the country, including the US Capitol in Washington, DC, and the Smithsonian. Visiting Artist Series, Jonathan Rypkema, Session IV: Through Dec. 4 - Nadia Stieglitz is a French-born ceramicist specializing in organic, abstract sculpture, working out of Studio Union in Charleston, S.C. From 2006 to 2014, she gained formal training in fine arts and photography through her studies at the Art Students League, the International Center of Photography and the School of Visual Arts. Since 2019, she has engaged in a self-taught ceramic sculpture practice, aided by two classes in hand building in Charleston, a workshop in Asheville, N.C., with Bandana Pottery, and another in the United Kingdom with James Oughtbridge and Rebecca Appleby. Since 2009, she has presented and sold paintings and ceramics to private buyers in Charleston and New York. In May 2021, Stieglitz was invited to show sculptures in her first public exhibit at Charleston's Dewberry Hotel, as well as at a private home collection in Mount Pleasant with two other artists. In 2022, the artist will be a summer resident at the Watershed Center for the Ceramic Arts in Newcastle, Maine. Museum Shop - Now offering the inventory of the Tradd Street Press, reproductions of works by Elizabeth O'Neill Verner among other exhibit related art objects. Hours: Mon.-Thur., 10am-5pm & Sun., 1-5pm. Admission: Yes. Contact: 843/722-2706 or at (www.gibbesmuseum.org).

Work by Kirsten Stolle

Halsey Institute of Contemporary Art, The Marion and Wayland H. Cato Jr. Center for the Arts, College of Charleston School of the Arts, 161 Calhoun St., Charleston. Through Dec. 10 - "Kirsten Stolle: Only You Can Prevent A Forest". Using appropriation, wordplay, and humor, Kirsten Stolle co-opts advertising strategies used by agricultural corporations to resurface and critique company history. For her exhibition, "Only You Can Prevent A Forest," Stolle will create photo-based collages, visual poetry interventions, text-based sound animation, a neon wall piece, and her first site-responsive sculptural installation. Building upon her decade-long research into companies like Bayer/Monsanto and Dow Chemical, the work will forefront historical ties to chemical warfare and reveal persistent greenwashing. Stolle's work interrogates the global influence of chemical companies on our food supply and their consistent efforts to downplay effects of their toxic products on our health and environment. Hours: Mon. - Sat., 11am-4pm; until 7pm on Thur. and by appt. Contact: 843/953-4422 or at (<https://halsey.cofc.edu/exhibitions/>).

Redux Contemporary Art Center, featuring Redux Studios, 1056 King Street, Charleston. Main Gallery, Through Nov. 5 - "FLOW with HEART, ROOT, WATER." This collective exhibition includes works of Mikki Blackman and Deborah Donovan Rice. They have come together to express their connection to the natural world through art-making, braiding together their love of the living earth, textiles, sculpture, movement, images, sound/music through the joy of shared endeavor. Gallery 1056, Through Nov. 5 - "Art Before Dishes," featuring works by Daisy McClellan. The exhibit is comprised of work mixing various fiber art techniques including punch needle, sewing, embroidery, and rug tufting. McClellan, is a mother of three young boys and her work often reflects the stage of motherhood she finds herself in: colorful, all encompassing, and always with a sense of nostalgia for what once was. More often than not, even in these modern times, home life is thought of as a female domain. Not only are women typically the ones who decorate the home, they are also in charge of maintaining order: taking on the majority of cleaning and organization for the household. "Art Before Dishes", is an internal mantra for the artist who uses it as a daily reminder to take time for herself and her art because with the never ending responsibilities of home life thrust upon wives and mothers, it can be a struggle to do so. Back Gallery, Through Nov. 5 - "Lightning Residence," featuring works by Jillian Thorvaldson and Nick Kawczynski. Ongoing - In May, 2017, Redux relocated to 1056 King Street with 38 studios, three galleries, a larger print shop, classroom, dark room, and photo studio. Hours: Tue.-Fri., 11am-4pm, or by appt. Contact: 843/722-0697 or at (www.reduxstudios.org).

The Charleston Museum, 360 Meeting Street, Charleston. Founded in 1773, is America's first museum. Lowcountry Image Gallery, Through Dec. 18 - "Explore Charleston in Sports: A Photographic History, 1890s-1960s". Sports have historically been important to our personal well-being. In addition to the health benefits of physical activity, life values such as teamwork, discipline, and emotional self-control are frequently learned through recreational games. The late 19th and early 20th centuries saw the rise of a variety of sports across the country, and these inevitably found their way to Charleston. Join us to view historic photographs from the Museum's Archives collection of sporting moments from the Lowcountry.

Textile Gallery, Through Dec. 4 - "Chintz: A Quilted History". Ongoing - "Becoming Americans: Charleston in the Revolutionary War". Charleston played a critical role in the Revolutionary War. South Carolina was the wealthiest of the thirteen rebellious colonies and Charleston was its key port to maintain its trade with the outside world. The British would make three attempts against the city during the Revolutionary War. Their defeat at the Battle of Sullivan's Island on June 28, 1776 was a crucial patriot victory, which convinced many that independence could be achieved. The Siege of Charleston, meanwhile, was the longest siege of the Revolutionary War and the largest battle in South Carolina. These events and others are chronicled in the new exhibit, which will also features artifacts and period images that have not been exhibited at the Museum before. Ongoing - Featuring the most extensive collection of South Carolina cultural and scientific collections in the nation, it also owns two National Historic Landmark houses, the Heyward-Washington House (1772) and the Joseph Manigault House (1803), as well as the Dill Sanctuary, a 580-acre wildlife preserve. Admission: Yes. Hours: Mon.-Sat., 9am-5pm & through the Summer months, Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 843/722-2996 or at (www.charlestonmuseum.org).

Clemson Area

Work by Sam Wang

Lee Gallery, 1-101 Lee Hall, Clemson University, 323 Fernow Street, Clemson. Through Nov. 9 - "Sam Wang: Centripetal Discovery." Sam Wang sees the potential for something extraordinary in spaces and moments that others view as mundane. He says "Seeing is exciting". Wang's passion for the creative experience leads him to investigate all aspects of photographic processes, tools and technologies sometimes building his own but always leaving nothing unexplored in the pursuit of realizing his vision. Works on view include photographic processes such as digital infrared, cyanotype, palladium, platinum/palladium, 3 color gum, or archival pigment print, many being unique one of a kind prints hand crafted in the darkroom or utilizing digital technologies. Nov. 14 - 22 - "Refiguring: reclamation of self and space, MFA Thesis work Sam Shamard, Jackie Ta & Huan LaPlante". Artists Talks will be offered on Nov. 18, from 5-7pm and a reception will be held from 5-7pm. MFA Thesis Candidates Huan LaPlante, Sam Shamard, and Jackie Ta, while stretching across a broad field of content in the work they create, share in their processes an act of healing through making. This collection of work focuses on the creation of immersive or meditative spaces as an act of unification and reclamation. Through a variety of formats, the artists elicit imagery ranging from vibrant life to quiet death. Bustling streetscapes, headless figures, and replicas of animal bones are assembled and deconstructed to invite the viewers to refigure their perceptions of bodily existence. Claiming agency, responsibility to heritage, and a sense of the ever fluid nature of being, Refiguring: reclamation of self and space provides an experiential window into the artists' lived realities. Hours: Mon.-Thur., 9am- Noon, then 1-4:30pm. Contact: Denise Woodward-Detrich, Lee Gallery Director by calling 864-656-3883 or at (<https://www.clemson.edu/centers-institutes/cva/>).
