to gift the Gregg a selection of his award-winning photos, many of which will be on display in this exhibition. "Hondros," a documentary of the life and legacy of this talented war photojournalist, directed by Greg Campbell, is also available on Netflix. Will Henry Stevens (1881 – 1949) was an American modernist and impressionist painter and naturalist. He is best known for his paintings and tonal pastels of the rural Southern landscape, abstractions of nature, and non-objective works, created while he summered in Asheville, NC. Using pastels of his own making, he was influenced by, among others, the impressionistic paintings of the Sung Dynasty, the poetry of Walt Whitman, and modernists Wassily Kandinsky and Paul Klee. Ongoing - One of NC State University's most historic buildings is now the permanent home of the Gregg Museum of Art & Design. The Historic Chancellor's Residence, located at 1903 Hillsborough Street, along with a 15,000 sq. ft. addition, increases the museum's visibility while significantly adding to its exhibition and programming space. Hours: The Gregg Museum is suspending the need for timed entry reservations. Current museum hours are Tuesday - Friday, 10am to 5pm. The Gregg does ask that larger groups (15+) call ahead at (919) 515-3503, to avoid crowding in the galleries. Contact: Zoe Starling, Curator of Education at 919/513-7244 or at (<https://gregg.arts.ncsu.edu/>).

North Carolina Museum of Art, 2110 Blue Ridge Road, Raleigh. Through Feb. 13, 2022 - "NC Artist Connections: The Beautiful Project, Stephen Hayes, and Hông-An Truong". For decades the NCMA has provided art education, inspiration, and free access to its People's Collection to generations of North Carolinians. For artists the Museum has been a particularly special place as a space for study and experimentation and a guide for burgeoning careers. In this exhibition the NCMA highlights three artists who present new and reconceived works of art with themes that link to important works in the Museum collection. In connecting the NCMA to local contemporary artists, the exhibition helps visitors experience the NCMA's collection in new ways while gaining a deeper understanding of the artists' ongoing relationships to these works, as well as how the work of other artists relates to their practice. Ongoing - "Break the Mold: New Takes on Traditional Art Making". The exhibit showcases contemporary artists who use traditional modes of art making and crafting to tackle timely subject matter. Innovative takes on embroidery, ceramics, quilting, furniture, interior design, and fashion accessories serve to explore diverse topics such as gender assumptions and inequalities, prison reform, racial justice, memory, and loss, as well as how objects transmit and transform social and cultural history. This show features 25 contemporary artists, including Sanford Biggers, Elizabeth Brim, Maria Britton, Julie Cockburn, Rodney McMillan, Rachel Meginnes, Katy Mixon, Gabriel de la Mora, Yasumasa Morimura, Thomas Schmidt, Shinique Smith, and Do Ho Suh, whose artworks are displayed alongside some of their historical predecessors. West Building, Through Apr. 10, 2022 - "To Be Young: Coming of Age in the Contemporary". Where does childhood end and adulthood begin? Using both figurative and abstract images from the Museum collection, "To Be Young: Coming of Age in the Contemporary" offers an introspective overview of coming of age across various communities throughout the 20th and 21st centuries. The exhibition explores how youths process development through concepts such as identity, community, and kinship to form new perspectives on the world. East Building, Dec. 18 - July 3, 2022 - "PARTICIPATE: Activate the Senses Exhibition". The exhibition encourages visitors to interact with art through a variety of experiences tailored to the senses. Using their own sense of sight, sound, touch, and even smell, visitors can engage with select works of art. Participants can experience the whistle of an ancient vessel, the feeling of the beadwork on a ceremonial belt, and even the scent of the food featured in a still-life painting. PARTICIPATE displays objects from five Museum collections, including Ancient American, African, American, Contemporary, and European. NCMA Park - The North Carolina Museum of Art (NCMA) announces new works of art to be installed in the 164-acre NCMA Park. The works include a bronze tree by Italian artist Giuseppe Penone, a playful pair of benches designed by Hank Willis Thomas, and a 10-day installation of 23-foot-tall illuminated rabbits by Australian artist Amanda Parer. The sculptures will be featured at the NCMA's Park Celebration on Nov. 6, when the public is invited to experience the newly expanded Park with a variety of outdoor activities. Ongoing - Featuring 10 additional sculptures by the celebrated French artist Rodin on loan from Iris Cantor's private collection. Ongoing - "John James Audubon's The Birds of America". The state has owned this treasured volume since 1848, but it has never been exhibited. Ongoing - The North Carolina Museum of Art has an outstanding permanent collection of more than 5,000 objects spanning antiquity to the present day. On the occasion of the expansion, the Museum has acquired more than 100 new works of art. Representing commissions, gifts, and purchases, the new works encompass important and diverse examples of historic and contemporary art from around the world, and will be installed in the Museum's new building and the surrounding landscape. Highlights include a gift of 28 sculptures by Auguste Rodin, and work by such internationally acclaimed artists as Roxy Paine, Ursula von Rydingsvard, El Anatsui, Jaume Plensa, Jackie Ferrara, Ellsworth Kelly, and David Park, among others. Admission: Yes for some exhibits. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 9am-5pm; Sun., 10am-5pm; & open until 9pm on Fri. Contact: 919/839-6262 or at (www.ncartmuseum.org).

North Carolina Museum of History, 5 East Edenton Street, (between Salisbury and Wilmington Streets), Raleigh. Through Jan. 2, 2022 - "Are We There Yet? North Carolina's Variety Vacationland, 1930s-1970s". This photography exhibit will invite visitors to take a look back, at an era when tourism boomed thanks largely to a state-run marketing effort called "Variety Vacationland." The Variety Vacationland campaign was successful in creating a unified tourism industry in North Carolina from the 1930s to the 1970s by depicting our state as both modern and progressive, but with strong ties to its past. True to the Jim Crow era, however, most sites promoted were marketed (and accessible) only to White tourists; people of color were neglected and even exploited at times, an attitude this exhibit attempts to point out where possible. Ongoing - Featuring exhibits dealing with North Carolina's history as a theme. Sweet Tea & Cornbread Grill and Eatery, located on the R Level, open Mon.-Sat., from 11am to 3pm. Download the full menu at (https://files.nc.gov/dncr-moh/Sweet%20Tea%20and%20Cornbread_MENU%202019.pdf). loan from the Buck Leonard Association of Sports and Human Enrichment (BL-ASHE). In partnership with BL-ASHE and the Rocky Mount Mills. Through Dec. 29 - "Negro League Baseball Memorabilia Exhibit". A diverse collection of Negro League Memorabilia from all the stars you know and love. All objects on display are the property of Derrick C. Jones. Through Dec. 31 - "Fiasco by Joyce Watkins King". A textile installation exhibit focusing on fast-fashion by Joyce Watkins King. Did you know that the average person disposes of over 80 pounds of textiles per year? Disposable and cheaply made clothing has led to an environmental crisis. Explore this subject in "Fiasco". We are excited to partner with the Rocky Mount Mills. See Joyce Watkins King's installation at the Riverside Mill and consider donating your old jeans to the project. Through Dec. 31 - "#socialvoyerism #socialmediaportraits by Natasha Sommerville". A unique twist on social media portraits by Natasha Sommerville. All social media photographs are public domain. That means anyone can take your photos and reuse them. That's what this artist does. Sommerville explores memories and moments of strangers and reimagines them as her own. Through Dec. 31 - "Befoul by Jeff Murphy." Large scale digital media warning of the devastating effects that not taking care of our global water supply can have on the world. The images on display are a combination of photographs, scanned objects, and drawings layered and manipulated. Water is one of the most vital resources on our planet and this exhibit explore the importance of our environmental stewardship. Outdoors, Through Sept. 2022 - "Sculpture Salmagundi XXV Juried by Adam Walls". Salisbury/Spencer

Waterworks Visual Arts Center, 123 E. Liberty St., in the East Square Arts District, located one block East of Main Street, across from the Salisbury Police Station, Salisbury. Through Jan. 28, 2022 - "BEYOND THE SURFACE". In keeping abreast of the flood of information that overflows our in boxes and living rooms, many of us have become expert surfers, skimming the surface to glean some understanding of our world and ourselves. Waterworks Visual Arts Center invites you to delve deeper, beyond the surface, where personal connections form, understanding shared, and similarities recognized. There is no cost for this event, but an RSVP is requested to admin@waterworks.org as light refreshments will be offered. On the surface, three autonomous exhibits flow from gallery to gallery imbibing an appreciation of North Carolina's Piedmont region as interpreted by four regional artists. Through his 360° photography, WILL JAMES draws viewers inside the worship sanctuaries of churches in Salisbury and nearby communities in his on-going series entitled "Sacred Spaces 360". LIZ MCKAY confronts current subjects and difficult situations in multi-media paintings that feature metaphorical ovoid stones, in her series named "The Weight of All That Is". Colorful and nostalgic paintings, captured en Plein Air by duo PHYLLIS STEIMEL and her daughter BETH BARGER comprise the aptly named exhibit, "It's in the Genes: A Mother and Daughter Show". Ongoing - At Waterworks, all exhibitions are free to see (donations gladly accepted). The galleries and Museum Store are open Monday-Friday, 10 am-4 pm. An elevator, braille signage, bench seating in all galleries, and wide hallways make the museum accessible to everyone. Visitors can experience the gated sensory garden, as well as sculpture gardens around the building. Waterworks offers three rotating exhibitions a year, K-12 Student exhibitions, and art classes for students ages 18 months to 100. Keep abreast of exhibitions, events, art classes, and new art for sale in the Museum Store. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 10am-4pm, (business hours M-F, 9 am-5 pm). Works on view in "Retail Therapy"

North Carolina Pottery Center, 233 East Avenue, Seagrove. Through Dec. 18 - "hyalyn: AMERICA'S FINEST PORCELAIN". Known for its potters and potteries, North Carolina has hosted traditional artisans who made utilitarian jugs, crocks, and churns, unschooled "fancyware" potters who made colorful and sometimes highly decorated objects, and fine art ceramists. All of this is well known. Less known is the history of Hickory's Hyalyn Porcelain Company where porcelain clay was slip cast into all sorts of adeptly designed wares. Founded by H. Leslie Moody and Frances Johnson Moody in 1945, Hyalyn Porcelain Company produced the work of notable designers like Eva Zeisel, Michael and Rosemary Lax, Georges Briard, Esta Brodey, Erwin Kalla, Herbert Cohen, and Rookwood's Wilhelm Rehm. Through Dec. 18 - "Retail Therapy". After the covid-induced stress and
