Mount Airy

Mount Airy Museum of Regional History, 301 North Main Street, Mount Airy. Ongoing - Ours is an all American story - typical of how communities grew up all across our great nation. While our story takes place in the back country of northwestern North Carolina at the foot of the Blue Ridge Mountains, it is likely to bear many similarities to the development of crossroads, towns, and cities throughout America. It had taken little more than 100 years for the corridors along the coastline of this still-new continent to overflow. As tensions grew and conflicts flared, the pioneer spirit set in. Families literally packed up everything they owned and headed into the unknown-searching for the "promised land." Admission: Yes. Hours: Mon.-Sat., 10am-5pm & Sun., 1-4pm. Contact: 336/786-4478 or at (northcarolinamuseum.org).

Work by Charlie Dupee - CAM Raleigh

CAM Raleigh, 409 W. Martin Street, between Harrington and West streets, Raleigh. Main Gallery, Through Mar. 24 - "Neo-Psychedelia," featuring works by Jerstin Crosby, Chieko Murasugi, Zach Storm, Kathryn Desplanque, Tonya Solley Thornton, and Charlie Dupee. Jerstin Crosby currently makes paintings and objects assembled from layers of hand-cut and laser-cut segments, realized in saturated tones. He has used digital tools from early in his practice, starting with the emergence of programs like Microsoft Paint, which influenced his aesthetic in its colorful simplicity. Chieko Murasugi is an abstract artist who employs personal symbols, illusory forms, and irrational spaces to address questions about history, identity, and the notion of personal agency. Her current series, titled "In Loving Memory," is a tribute to her late mother, Yasue Murasugi, who died on May 31, 2022 at the age of 92. Zach Storm was born and raised in Los Angeles, CA. He received his BFA from the Corcoran College of Art+Design in Washington, DC, in 2005 and earned his Masters degree at the Maryland Institute College of Art in 2012. Lower Level Gallery, Through Mar. 24 - "The Nature of Things," features paintings and ceramics, by Anna Valdez, depicting maximalist compositions of large still life arrangements that explore how objects form culture and make meaning. Valdez rearranges her growing collection of natural and human-made objects in endless permutations in her studio in Los Angeles. Plants and flowers, shells and corals, semi-precious rocks, animal bones, taxidermized birds and small stuffed mammals, paintings and photographs, ceramics made by the artist, antique vases, books about art and milkcrates to carry them in, textiles and rugs – objects are never deaccessioned, and parts of her studio often resemble a small natural history museum. CAM Little Media Gallery, Through Mar. 24 - "Unstable," featuring works by Jenny Eggleston. In response to the resurgence of American fascism, Eggleston presents Unstable. Having watched our democratic experiment pushed to the brink, culminating in the January 6, 2021 insurrection, many have felt unmoored. A troubling onset of chaos has disrupted the comfort they once took in whatever version of American democracy they believed in. For Eggleston, this has taken the form of a stampede of sorts, horses escaping their paddock, breaking
