Work from The Bishop Collection of Antique Maps

Franklin G. Burroughs · Simeon B. Chapin Art Museum, 3100 South Ocean Blvd., beside Springmaid Beach, Myrtle Beach. Through Apr. 12 - "The Mapmakers' Art: The Bishop Collection of Antique Maps: 1608-1863". The artworks, a 1999 gift from Mrs. George Bishop in memory of her late husband, a local entrepreneur, are part of the Museum's permanent collection. Following the discovery of the New World in the 15th century, European mapmakers scrambled to document and map the new territories, using centuries-old technology. In contrast to today's mass-produced, utilitarian maps, early European cartographers recruited renowned painters and miniaturists of their times who created maps that were truly works of art, richly colored and intricately decorated. Through Apr. 23 - "Inner Garden," featuring works by local artist, Laurie Blume. Passionate about sharing his cultural heritage with his new country, he has done so not only through his own artwork, evoking themes and images from his upbringing, but also by collecting and selling the works of other artists from Pinar del Rio. "Voices of the Island" features 55 works by 18 artists (including Llanes), all of whom are from Cuba and most of whom are still living there. Through Apr. 23 - "Swim: An Artist's Journey," features a series of paintings by Charles Williams, aimed at confronting his own deeply held fears as well as the cultural and psychological barriers to swimming experienced by black youth. As a survivor of a near-drowning experience, African American artist Charles Williams was not surprised to learn that the majority of accidental drowning victims in America are African American male teenagers. Or that nearly 70% of American black children have few or no
