Asheville Area

Asheville Art Museum, 2 South Pack Square at Pack Place, Asheville. Appleby Foundation Exhibition Hall, Through July 4 - "Gillian Laub's Southern Rites," organized by the International Center of Photography. American photographer Gillian Laub (born New York, 1975) has spent the last two decades investigating political conflicts, exploring family relationships, and challenging assumptions about cultural identity. In Southern Rites, Laub engages her skills as a photographer, filmmaker, and visual activist to examine the realities of racism and raise questions that are simultaneously painful and essential to understanding the American consciousness. Judith S. Moore Gallery, Through June 27 - "A Hand in Studio Craft: Harvey K. Littleton as Peer and Pioneer". The exhibition highlights recent gifts to the Asheville Art Museum's Collection and loans from the family of glass artist Harvey K. Littleton. This exhibition places Harvey and Bess Littleton's collection into the context of their lives, as they moved around the United States, connected with other artists, and developed their own work. This exhibition—organized by the Asheville Art Museum and curated by Whitney Richardson, associate curator. Harvey K. Littleton (Corning, NY 1922–2013 Spruce Pine, NC) founded the Studio Glass Movement in the United States in 1962 when, as a teacher, he instituted a glass art program at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, the first of its kind in the United States. The Van Winkle Law Firm Gallery, Through May 23 - "Stained with Glass: Vitreograph Prints from the Studio of Harvey K. Littleton". The selection of works from the Asheville Art Museum's Collection features imagery that recreates the sensation and colors of stained glass. The exhibition showcases Littleton and the range of makers who worked with him, including Dale Chihuly, Cynthia Bringle, Thermon Statom, and more. This exhibition—organized by the Asheville Art Museum and curated by Hilary Schroeder, assistant curator. Ongoing - The Asheville Art Museum, the hub for 20th- and 21st-century American art in Western North Carolina, has re-opened to the public. The $24+ million, state-of-the-art facility encompasses 54,000 square feet and adds 70 percent more collection gallery space. For the first time in the Museum's history, it has the capacity to host major traveling exhibitions from nationally recognized museums. The expansion increases its physical space and dramatically increases its role as a community center, educational resource, economic engine for WNC, and cultural concierge for the region's residents and visitors. Opening exhibitions include: "Appalachia Now! An Interdisciplinary Survey of Contemporary Art in Southern Appalachia," is the inaugural special exhibition of the newly renovated Museum. Curated by Jason Andrew, the juried exhibition features 50 artists of diverse backgrounds from the Southern Appalachian states of North Carolina, Georgia, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia. The exhibit provides a regional snapshot of the art of our time—a collective survey of contemporary Southern Appalachian culture. "Intersections in American Art," is the largest presentation ever drawn from the Museum's Collection of 5,000+ works and 4,000+ architectural drawings. It celebrates the unique qualities of art from Western North Carolina, placed within the context of art from across the United States. The intersections of regional and national art are highlighted throughout the galleries, as are three specific ways of understanding the works here: Time & Place; Experiments in Materials & Form; and Collaboration & Interdisciplinary Dialogue. Admission: Yes. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm; Fri. till 8pm & Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 828/253-3227 or at (www.ashevilleart.org).

Black Mountain College Museum + Arts Center, 120 College Street, Asheville. Lower Level Gallery with Companion Digital Exhibition, through May 14 - "Black Mountain College: Idea + Place". How can an idea inform a place? How can a place inform an idea? Would Black Mountain College have had the same identity and lifespan if it had been located in the urban Northeast, the desert Southwest, or coastal California? How did BMC's rather isolated, rural, and mountainous setting during the era of the Great Depression and the Jim Crow South influence the college community's decision-making and the evolution of ideas upon which it was based? Upper Level Gallery with Companion Digital Exhibition, through May 14 - "adVANCE! Modernism, Black Liberation + Black Mountain College". Featuring the work of contemporary sculptor Larry Paul King in conversation with Black Mountain College modernist masters including Jacob Lawrence, Gwendolyn Knight Lawrence, Josef Albers, Leo Krikorian, and Sewell Sillman. Virtual Exhibitions

Work by Pauline Dove

Ongoing - Central Piedmont's new Pauline Dove Art Gallery is featuring works by its namesake at the link (http://blogs.cpc.edu/cpc-artgalleries/). Central Piedmont Community College's new Pauline Dove Art Gallery, located inside the college's new Parr Center, will display a new exhibition virtually by its namesake - Pauline Dove - that will include an eclectic array of artwork featuring energetic swirling colors and highly creative compositions. The selection of works will present the full spectrum of Dove's skills, ranging from painting, silver point, prints, ceramics, and books. Dove's new exhibition honors her late sister, Selma, and celebrates life, love, sisterhood, and the joys of making art. As a former chair of the Visual Arts Program and studio art instructor at Central Piedmont, Dove's career at the college spanned three decades. During her tenure she taught a variety of visual arts classes. As a result, her legacy thrives in the college's halls to this day. After her retirement from the College in 2001, Dove worked as a freelance artist, while also participating in Continuing Education courses in visual arts at Central Piedmont.
