Mueller, well-known and highly regarded local artist, is exhibiting some of her most unusual new works. These impressionistic renderings in pastel are of mountains she observed, some in North Carolina, and some in California. "My current work includes new portraits and taking old work in a new direction" May 6 - 30 - "About The Three Sisters and their art gallery!," featuring works by the three sisters: Marie Taylor, Thelma Kirby and Loretta Ivey. When they were very young their father received an original oil painting as a gift. They all loved the painting and when he passed away one of the issues was - who was going to be the owner? Since they all painted, we decided to re-create the original so that we each could "have our own". Thus began their joint painting experience. In 2011, after a year of home health care for their mother and spending a lot of time together, they decided to open their own art studio. The Three Sisters Art Studio was born and they have been painting together ever since. Marie Taylor began painting with her sisters after retirement. She prefers oil over acrylics and watercolors, but works in all three mediums. Thelma Kirby works in oils, watercolors and charcoal. Her work includes a large collection of signed charcoal portraits of Winston Cup Race Car drivers. Loretta Ivey has done tole painting, duck decoys, and painted gnomes for Tom Clark. Now she mostly does landscapes in oil, but also enjoys watercolors. Hours: 24/7. Contact: David Mench by e-mail at (Wagglestone@yahoo.com).
