Walter Greer Gallery, at the Arts Center of Coastal Carolina, 14 Shelter Cove Lane, Hilton Head Island. June 2 - 27 - "Mark Maute: Me and My Friends". A reception will be held on June 3, from 5-7pm. When Mark Maute left teaching art in 1977, he threw away all his art supplies and equipment. Thirty-five years later, after moving to the island full-time, he took his first art class at the Academy of Art League of Hilton Head. During this journey, which began in 2012, Mark has taken many classes to sharpen and polish his skills and abilities. He likes to think that this has been his retraining in retirement. In addition to painting, sculpture and collage/construction by Mark Maute, the exhibition includes artworks by three of his friends: Robin Walton, Diana Nadanyl and Stephanie Woods. Maute met and worked with these artists in various classes over the last three years. While not identical in styles and interests, they all share a passionate commitment to the color, design and impression of the work they present. Hours: Mon.-Sat., 10am-4pm. Work by Steve Jameson

Franklin G. Burroughs - Simeon B. Chapin Art Museum, 3100 South Ocean Blvd., beside Springmaid Beach, Myrtle Beach. Through Sept. 13 - "Steve Jameson: Ode to the Grand Strand". Many American cities have preserved the character of their original - or at least earlier - architectural structures in historic districts. This movement, alas, has yet to appear in the Grand Strand area. But many of its historic structures have been preserved in the paintings of artist and longtime Myrtle Beach resident Steve Jameson. Jameson paints under the pseudonym Cedar. Through Sept. 29 - "Interactive Art Project 'Before I Die'". Most of us have felt or expressed the wish to do or experience something before we die. For New Orleans artist Candy Chang, that introspection was transformed into a worldwide interactive art project. In the throes of a severe depression following the 2011 death of a close friend from liver cancer, Chang conceived a project: a sort of public meditation on the meaning of life. With permission from its owner, she painted the side of an abandoned house in her neighborhood with chalkboard paint and stenciled it in a grid repeating the sentence, "Before I die I want to _____." Anyone walking by could pick up a piece of chalk, reflect on their lives and share their personal aspirations. By the next day, the wall was full of responses: "Before I die I want to... sing for millions, plant a tree, find love, see equality, straddle the International Date Line, see my daughter graduate" and more. "[The responses] reassured me that I'm not alone as I try to make sense of myself," Chang recalled. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-4pm & Sun., 1-4pm. Contact: 843/238-2510 or at (www.myrtlebeachartmuseum.org).
