Work by Jose Manuel Cruz

The Durham Art Guild, Royall Center for the Arts, 120 Morris Street, Durham. Truist Gallery, through Aug. 6 - "Where We Reside," featuring works by Amber Mooers, Yve Holtzclaw, and Lady Summer. With this work, the artists seek to understand home through representation, abstraction, and distortion. Hours: Mon.-Sat., 9am-9pm & Sun., 1-6pm. Contact: 919/560-2713 or at (www.durhamartguild.org).

The Nasher Museum of Art, Duke University Central Campus, 2001 Campus Drive, Durham. Through Feb. 19, 2023 - "Beyond the Surface: Collage, Mixed Media and Textile Works from the Collection". This exhibition includes approximately 40 works, primarily from the Nasher Museum's collection. With a focus on collage, mixed media and textile works, Beyond the Surface explores how artists bring together disparate materials and ideas to create artworks that engage with all audiences. Through skill and care, artists juxtapose unexpected elements and concepts in their work to tell many different stories. Modern & Contemporary Gallery, Through Nov. 27 - "David Levinthal: Baseball," is an installation of large-format Polaroid photographs that capture some of the most iconic moments in the history of baseball through Levinthal's signature use of lifelike figurines. Babe Ruth's called shot from game three of the 1932 World Series and Jackie Robinson stealing home in the 1955 World Series are among the moments rendered in the artist's unique and nostalgic photography. Incubator Gallery, Through Aug. 28 - "Helen Frankenthaler: UN POCO MÁS (A LITTLE MORE)," a student co-curated exhibition. Helen Frankenthaler (1928-2011) is most known for her bold, colorful abstract paintings. Raised in New York City, she was a trailblazer in Abstract

Expressionism, an art movement initiated in the late 1940s that emphasized spontaneous, expressive, large-scale painting. Ongoing - The Collection Galleries feature rotating installations of the Nasher Museum's extensive holdings of historical art. Eight galleries, as well as the entrance to Wilson Pavilion, are dedicated to the museum's strengths, which represent a brief history of human creativity from different times and parts of the world. Just beyond the entrance, visitors will find the Incubator, a flexible space for rotating student- and faculty-curated exhibitions. Visitors are invited to return again and again to The Collection Galleries, where Nasher curators continue to refresh the galleries with gems from the collection. The museum's contemporary collection is showcased through rotating exhibitions within a separate pavilion. Works from the contemporary collection create new conversations and connections among historical works in The Collection Galleries. A breakthrough work by New York artist Fred Wilson from 1990, Colonial Collection, anchors the Arts of Africa Gallery. A painting by Kehinde Wiley is on view in the European Art Gallery. Ongoing - Nasher Museum Café and Museum Shop. Admission: Yes, but free to Durham residents, courtesy of "The Herald-Sun" newspaper. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm; Thur. till 9pm; & Sun., noon-5pm. Contact: 919/684-5135 or at (www.nasher.duke.edu).

Weatherspoon Art Museum, University of North Carolina - Greensboro, Cone Building, Tate and Spring Garden Streets, Greensboro. 2nd Floor: The Bob & Lissa Shelley McDowell Gallery, Through Aug. 13 - "Ostensibly So: Sculpture from the Collection". This exhibition offers new ways of looking at three-dimensional objects. Whether forms that no longer serve their original intent, eye-catching works that avoid specific contexts, witty re-interpretations of objects, or illusionistic wonders, the artworks included in Ostensibly So reflect a fascination with and exploration of the methods and materials of artmaking as well as the concepts of form and function. As plausible rather than demonstrably true entities, they incorporate additional elements such as humor, symbolism, social commentary, personification, and allusion. 2nd Floor, The Gregory D. Ivy and the Weatherspoon Guild Galleries, Through Dec. 3 - "Bestiary: Animals as Symbols and Metaphors". The Guild and Ivy galleries will be awash with an array of beasts this summer. No cause for concern, however, as this menagerie consists solely of two- and three-dimensional representations of familiar animals, many of which are quite benign and intriguing. Drawn from the museum's collection and arranged by species, the exhibition is a contemporary look at the old bestiary tradition. 2nd Floor, Gallery 6, Through Sept. 6 - "The Eye and the Ear: Animations by Mary Ellen Bute". From the mid 1930s to mid 1950s, artist Mary Ellen Bute produced more than a dozen pioneering animations that sought to allow viewers to see sound. Born and raised in Texas, Bute left home at sixteen to study painting at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts. Frustrated by the limitations of working on canvas, she went on to train in stage lighting at Yale University before moving to New York where she forged collaborative relationships with innovators across professional fields and disciplines in the pursuit of presenting music through moving images. 1st Floor: Weatherspoon Atrium Mural, Ongoing - "Pause and Breathe, We Got This," a mural by Sheena Rose. A homecoming is in the works. The Weatherspoon is excited to announce its commission of a major new artwork by artist Sheena Rose, MFA '16. A multidisciplinary artist working in animation, drawing, painting, and performance, Rose's vibrant and energetic work
